

Johann Bauschinger (1834 – 1893)

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia,
http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Johann\_Bauschinger

Johann Bauschinger (11 June 1834 in Nuremberg – 25 November 1893 in Munich) was a mathematician, builder, and professor of Engineering Mechanics at Munich Polytechnic from 1868 until his death. The Bauschinger effect in materials science is named after him. He was also the father of astronomer Julius Bauschinger (1860–1934).